WORK OF U. S. SIGNAL CORPS

PROGRESS IN ALASKAN AND PHILIPPINE TELEGRAPHS.

Military Cable System of Philippines New Covers 749 Miles - Upper Yukon in Communication With Skagway Now.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 .- An interesting cature of the annual report of Gen. Greely, Chief Signal Officer of the Army, relates to the work of the Signal Corps in Alaska.

the Commanding General of the department when completed, would not afford means of leation with any other part of the world. To increase the value of the Alaskan system, the Chief Signal Officer of the Army conferred with the authorities of the Cana-Government at Toronto with a view to the extension of the existing Canadian elegraph lines, and the establishment of cooperation in telegraphic work between be Alaskan and Canadian systems.

The Canadian Government courteously placed in conference with the Chief Signal Officer of the Army, Mr. J. B. Charleson, Assistant Superintendent of Public Works in the Yukon district, who was charged with the extension of the Canadian telegraph line from Quesnelle to Atlin. The Canadian authorities had the longer line to construct, but they performed their work with such expedition that, on May 5, 1901. the telegraph line was completed between Dawson and Fort Egbert, thus bringing the upper part of American territory on the Upper Yukon in direct telegraphic communication with Skagway, whence by steamer news could reach Washington, or any other part of the world, in four days under ordinary conditions. On Sept. 24, 1901, telegraphic communication was established between Fort Egbert and the Upper Yukon region, via United States military telegraph and anadian land lines, and messages were exchanged between the commanding offi-cers at Fort Egbert, Skagway and the au-horities in Washington. Referring to the work in the Philippines, "At the beginning of the fiscal year there was only one military cable south of Luzon about fifty miles in length, connecting tebu and Leyte. This condition of affairs caused Major-Gen. MacArthur to represent to the Secretary of War the military and economic advisability of putting Manila in direct communication with the principal points of the islands. The military cable system of the Philippines now makes it connects Manila covers 749 miles. It connects Manila directly over our own lines with the islands of Mindorro, Marinduque, Masbate, Samar, Leyte, Cebu, Negros, Mindanao, Jolo and with the division headquarters, island of Panay is reached over either The island of Panay is reached over either the Eastern Extension Company via Signal Corps lines from Bacalod or direct from Manila to Hollo. Prior to the establishment of these cables there was scarcely a post in Mindanao that could answer any communication from department headquarters at Zamboanga in less than two months, times there being practically no months' time, there being practically no postal service whatever, the garrisons depending on the casual visits of transports,

BROWN'S SENTENCE DEFECTIVE.

Lieutenant Convicted of Manslaughter. WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 - Secretary Root has decided to refer back to the court-martial which tried Lieut. Preston Brown in the Philippines, on a charge of killing a native. all the papers in the case. Lieut Brown belongs to the Second Infantry, and during an engagement with Filipinos he killed a native, who, it is alleged, permitted an American soldier to drown without making an effort to save him. Lieut. Brown was tried by court-martial and convicted of manslaughter. He was sentenced to a short term in prison for the offence.

When the papers reached the War De-partment a defect in the sentence was im-mediately noticed and called to the atten-tion of the Secretary of War. The army regulations provide that a sentence pro-nounced by court-martial for a civil offence shall not be less than the sentence provided by law for the same offence in the State or Territory in which the crime is committed. As the crime of manslaughter is punishable in the Philippines under the Spanish penal code by imprisonment for not less than twelve years and the sentence imposed by the court-martial was much under this, it became necessary for the Secretary of War to refer the case back to the court-martial for correction. When the correction is made and the papers again, reach tion is made and the papers again reach the War Department they will be taken up with a view to securing elemency for the young officer.

ENOUGH MEN IN PHILIPPINES. Military Force Will Be Gradually With

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.-Secretary Root has decided after a careful consideration of the reports from Gen. Chaffee, that the situation in the Philippines will not require an increase of the military force to the there. He made this statement sident and Cabinet to-day and explained that the recent disturbances in Samar Leyte and other parts of the Philippine were not so serious as to warrant the sending of reënforcements to Gen. Chaffee.

Should the regiment contain men whose term is not soon to expire they will be transferred to some regiment to remain in the Philippines, and any short-term men in regiments not to come home will be transferred to the ones under orders to return, to the extent that the returning regiment will be recruited to its maximum strength with short-term men. It will then be brought back to San Francisco and replaced by a regiment which is recruited only to its normal strength, so that month by month the total force will be slightly reduced.

Just what regiments will be selected to go to San Francisco has not yet been de-termined upon, though in all probability Secretary Root will send the recently or-ganized regiments of infantry and probably several regiments of cavalry.

CENSURE FOR WHITE STAR LINER. Admiralty Court's Finding on the Colliston of the Oceanic and Kincors.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Oct. 29 .- The Admiralty Court to-day rendered a decision in the case of the collision between the White Star Line steamship Oceanic and the Waterford steamship Kincora on Aug. 8. The collision occurred in the Irish Channel during a dense fog and resulted in the sinking of the Kincora and the loss of seven or eight of her crew.

The verdict of the court is that the Kincora was guilty because of faulty navigation, and also for not stopping when it was possible to do so after hearing the Oceanic's whistle. The court also decided that the Oceanic, although most skilfully navigated, was going at the immoderate rate of speed during the dense fog, in a dangerous spot, of 6 1-3 knots an hour. This speed had been admitted by the navigators of the Oceanic. For this reason the court held that both vessels were to

ROSTAND'S DEFENCE. Visit of Czar and Czarina.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
PARIS, Oct. 29. M. Edmond Rostand has answered the numerous critics of the poem he addressed to the Czar and Czarina on their recent visit to Compiègne in an interview published to-day.

He says the French people have lost the sense of badinage they had in the days of royalty. Light verse, he maintains, is acceptable to sovereigns, as well as our Alexandrian rhymes. In writing his poem he sought to give the Empress of Russia a light and merry verse, such as pleased the great ladies in the golden times.

"Now, alas," cries the poet, "all is heavy. "Now, alas," cries the poet, "all is heavy, formal and dark."
